Subject: settlement

At a time when companies like Enron fraudulently squandered the public's moneys(mine included), it would be best that one of the most outstanding and profitable companies be allowed to operate without further interference. The states that do not wish to accept the settlement are going to spend a lot of their constituents money for lawyers' fees. This whole suit was ridiculous, belly aching by the likes of Scott Mc Neily and his company. He and the other competitors are just not smart enough! That is what it comes down to.

The stockholders of Microsoft should sue the justice dept. You are NOT SERVING PUBLIC INTEREST by further litigation.
Sincerely Agnes Heller (Microsoft stockholder)
